LOGAN'S RIDE.

(Before Atlanta, July 2d, 1864.)

Who rides so fast this match-worn track,
Past the fort, past the fort, past the fort,
Into the heart of that sulphurous hell
Where the brave McPherson fell?
The rider's brow is stern and sad
For the leader lost, and for each lad
In faded blue; the war-worn face
Bent forward; and defying space,
Spouting smoke with a terrible fire,
His eyes afame with battle-fire.
Thunders the steel toward yonder scene,
Where lie the dreams of the Florentine.

The "Seventeenth" and "Tennessee,"
They know their march, believe,
The drum-beat of your hosts, Sir John,
Iron rain where-by the day is won;
That stride which wraps the distance round.

Your arteries at every bound.
At last the iron comes to the healing flesh,
The wound begins to bleed afresh,
That sharpened from a Southern gun
Had made at gory Donelson.
The hero's bared and marsh-burned head
Is borne abreast the ranks. The dead
Might stir at that cheer the dying give
To him whose coming bids them live.
On, the rallying drums, the leveled steel,
Where the watering lines hear that dealing peal!

"Comrades, will you hold this line with me?"

Voice of the rock to the swirling sea;
Iron sun of the sea that answers there,
Sweeps down all foes. The field is bare,—
All day that line is held. What time
Shall such a dead grow old with life?
Will they forget the hour who heard
That boom-burst, th' advance of the Thirty-third?

Now Stone Mountain's big, bald crown
On those lurid days no more looks down,
Each visardine of the Tennessee
Will hold some infant on his knee
And proudly o'er the story tell;—
The fight in that sulphurous hell
How they fought on with bloody cost,
And when the day was almost lost,
Then they heard that call to victory,
"Comrades, will you hold this line with
me?"

CHARLES J. WOODBURY.

A Thieving Domestic.

Two thefts of money recently occurred in the residence of Mrs. E. B. Crocker, mother-in-law of Porter Ashe, at Los Angeles, and resulted in the dismissal of a Chinese servant and the disappearance of a large bunch of valuable keys, for the return of which a large reward is offered.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in. Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, seas and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disinterested, disengaged and alone! When diseased, there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain sufficient proof that he is free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of 75 per cent of all maladies, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, constipation, nervous prostration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the heart and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of Augus Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Dickens' Earnings.

Sergt. Talfourd estimated that Dickens received $50,000 a year from his works for a period of five years. His total property amounted to nearly half a million. He "made every shilling he possessed" from literature, and was, as all the world knows, a very generous and liberal liver. "He not only lived in a liberal style for thirty years, keeping up a considerable establishment, and often traveling without regard for cost, but he also brought up a large and expensive family."

Saved His Life.

D. J. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with phthisis, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle, and after taking six bottles was entirely relieved, and gained weight, 18 pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. "old at 50 cents a bottle by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co.

Resumed Practice.

Dr. W. D. Wagner has recovered from his protracted illness as to be able to resume his profession as a dentist at his old rooms in the Sunbeam building.

A Pretty Woman's Secret.

Fear of discovery, when she resorts to false hair and dyes, is a source of constant anxiety to her. The very persons from whom she most desires to hide the waning of her charms are the ones most likely to make the discovery. But there is no reason why she should not regain and retain all the beauty of hair that was her pride in youth. Let her use AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and not only will her hair cease to fall out, but a new growth will appear where the scalp has been denuded; and locks that are turning gray, or have actually grown white, will return to their pristine freshness and brilliance of color. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR cures

Hereditary Baldness.

GEORGE MAYER, Flatonia, Texas, was bald at 23 years of age, as his ancestor had been for several generations. One bottle of HAIR VIGOR started a growth of soft, downy hair all over his scalp, which soon became thick, long, and vigorous.

MONDAY..... MARCH 7, 1887

The Forty-Ninth Congress, which ended its existence at noon Friday, has afforded a striking illustration of the constant increase in the volume of legislation demanding the attention of Congress which has been going on the last three or more Congresses. More bills were introduced in both Houses, more committee reports made, more bills passed, more laws became laws, and more were vetoed than ever before. Most of these measures were of comparatively little importance, such as the bills granting private pensions and special reliefs, authorizing the erection of bridges granting right of way and the like, but many notable bills and reports were presented. During the session there were introduced in the House 11,258 bills and 283 joint resolutions on which over 5,000 reports were made, being several thousand more bills and over a thousand more reports that were made in the Forty-Eighth Congress, which had, in its turn, beaten the record. In the Senate there were introduced 3,857 bills and 118 joint resolutions, on which 1,988 written reports were made, being upwards of 500 more bills and over 400 more reports than on the record, breaking 48th Congress. The total number of laws enacted was approximately 1,431, of which 1,093 originated in the House and 338 in the Senate. Two hundred and fifty-four of these became laws by the expiration of the constitutional ten days' limitation. Fifty bills failed to become laws, owing to the adjournment of Congress, one of them at the close of the first session. There were 182 bills vetoed by the President, or twenty-one more instances of the exercise of the Presidential prerogative of the veto than has occurred from the foundation of the Government down to the beginning of this Congress. Of the vetoed bills, 94 originated in the House and thirty-eight in the Senate. But one private bill, that granting a pension to Joseph Romelser, and one public bill—namely, that providing for the erection of Government buildings at Dayton, O., succeeded in passing both houses over the President's veto, although several others obtained the requisite two-thirds vote in the Senate, only to fail in the House.

The Hon. J. H. Reagan, of Texas, has been interviewed on the prohibition of free passes by the Inter-State Commerce bill. He says that the General Government has no right to interfere with commerce entirely within the State of New York, any more than New York has a right to regulate commerce partly in New York and partly in any adjoining State, but the General Government has a perfect right to regulate that commerce which the States cannot regulate. Consequently, he says, any railroad has a perfect right to give passes or any special rate they may please wholly within the borders of any one State, but as soon as they cross the border and go into another State they lay themselves liable to all the provisions of the law, and are amenable to its provisions.

The Supreme Court of California has just made quite an important decision. It has decided in the case of the estate of Andre Briswater that a marriage to be legal must be made public, and the parties must live as husband and wife "in the face of their neighbors." The decision is considered to practically dispose of the famous Sharon case against Sarah Althea, for no "publicity" was ever given to the Sharon-Hill marriage.

Jeffersonian simplicity at Washington is thus described by Editor Watterson: "I have seen Washington under 10 administrations, and I never dreamed that such arrogance and insolence as now prevails were possible. I would not, as a self-respecting man, venture to enter any Department where I am not personally known."

TO-DAY'S NEWS.

Henry Ward Beecher Said to be Dying.

HIS CONDITION HOPELESS

The Drummer Law Declared Unconstitutional.

[PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE]

Mr. Beecher's Condition.

NEW YORK, March 7.

At 8 o'clock last night, Henry Ward Beecher's condition remained without any noticeable change. He was yet unconscious and was said to be slowly sinking. He moved his right hand occasionally.

Long before daylight yesterday morning it was noticed that many more people were on the streets than was usual, in the vicinity of Beecher's residence, and by 8 o'clock there was quite a crowd eagerly looking for the first bulletin. At 9 o'clock the following bulletin was issued: "Beecher is about the same; no change since last night." The first bulletin was signed by Dr. S. Searles, the Beecher family physician, and as it was posted on the door post, the people crowded the stoop to read it. There was a feeling of thankfulness plainly visible on their countenances that the life of the illustrious divine was still spared, and as the day advanced the throngs on the sidewalks of Clarke and Hicks streets rendered them almost impassable. In the crowd were people of every station, from the millionaire to the prosperous tradesman and poor laborers. The expressions of sympathy and condolence that were heard on all sides only made another powerful indication of the high esteem in which the Plymouth pastor was held by all classes. During the morning scores of carriages drove past the house, and the occupants of many of them alighted and walked to the bulletin and then departed, while others left their cards with the attendant. Those who were more intimately acquainted were admitted into the house and made inquiries concerning the patient personally, but only the immediate family were allowed in the sick chamber. There was, however, an exception made in the case of Rev. Dewitt Talmage, who called with his daughter Edith, about 1:30 and he was admitted into Mr. Beecher's presence. Fifteen minutes later Talmage left the house. The other callers were mostly city officials of New York and Brooklyn. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Dr. Hammond arrived at the house, and an hour later the following bulletin was posted: "Prof. W. H. Hinman, of New York, in consultation, confirms the opinion of the physician that Beecher is gradually failing; he may, however, live for some days." That all hope was given up was plainly indicated by this bulletin, and the remark of Rev. Dewitt Talmage—"It is very serious,"—as he passed out of the hall. There were continued services at the Plymouth church yesterday morning, and at 11 o'clock the bulletin was read to the congregation, and the effect of it was noticeable on the congregation by the number of handkerchiefs in use and the strained sobs of many of those present. At the church of Dr. Talmage, the scene after the reverend gentleman's prayer, was almost as affecting. Dr. Talmage made a very tender appeal on behalf of Beecher; he prayed fervently for a divine blessing on the afflicted, and alluded to Mr. Beecher as the friend of the millionaire, the friend of the workingman and the friend of all men, whether rich or poor. At 2:30 this bulletin appeared: "Dr. Hammond is in consultation; Beecher is in a state of coma all day; no sign of pain or consciousness of any sort; death is considered certain, but at an indefinite time."

It was a weary night that the members of the Beecher household passed last night. One by one, they would silently move in and out of the death chamber, taking their turns at the dreary vigil. Dr. Searle was at the post of duty without intermission, until nearly 6 o'clock, when he retired to his home. Mrs. Beecher had kept watch over the sick man the most of the night, fearing he might pass away in her absence. She did, however, take a few hours rest on her couch in a room adjoining that where the sufferer lay. At 6 o'clock, when Dr. Searle went home, this bulletin was issued:

"Mr. Beecher has been gradually failing during the night. His death is not, however, anticipated at present." W. S. SEARLES.

All day Sunday, and until night, the officer on duty at the door of the house was kept busy answering the queries of friends and strangers. For hours, the people stood in the damp weather looking at the house, and it was not until the lights in the windows were lowered, that the crowd was entirely dispersed. Even as late as 1 o'clock, persons climbed up the steps and tried to read the last bulletin. The most of the flowers sent to the house came from the members of the congregation. Major Pond was in the house the most of the day. He told the circumstances connected with Beecher's daily occupation just previous to his attack, with considerable feeling. He said that Beecher only on Tuesday last, told him how strong he felt and how glad he was that he would be able to complete his book in time for the publishers, and what pleasure he found in writing the work. The incoming September, it was intended to give a grand celebration in honor of Beecher's 50th year in the ministry, and the first half of a century of his married life; also the 40th year of his ministry at the Brooklyn church. All of the morning, from just before daylight, there was collected a crowd of people on the sidewalk in front of the Beecher residence, eagerly scanning the bulletins. 10:30 A. M.—No change in Beecher's condition.

At 11:25 Dr. Searle returned to the house. He did not expect any change in Beecher's condition. Life is slowly ebbing away, and from the reports of those who have seen Beecher, it is evident that the end is not far off.

12 M.—The condition of Beecher at this hour does not vary essentially from that given to the press last evening. The only changes perceptible are the increasing rapidity of the pulse and respiration. These stand respectively, 108 and 36 to 38 per minute. His respiration is also more shallow and his temperature reaches 101 degrees. These symptoms indicate a gradual failure of vitality which has been undisputed, and the consequent slow approach of the end. This course of the disease cannot be changed by an occurrence of fresh hemorrhage which may or may not happen, and the time of which cannot be surmised. There is no reason to believe that the fatal issue will occur to-day." W. S. SEARLES.

Of Importance to Drummers.

WASHINGTON, March 7.

The Supreme Court has to-day rendered a decision in a case brought from Tennessee, which involves the right of one State or municipality to impose a license tax on drummers or traveling salesmen from another State, seeking to sell goods by sample or otherwise. The decision is that such taxation is an interference with Inter-State commerce, and is therefore unconstitutional.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

—Bar silver 100%.

—United States Consul Heap died at Constantinople yesterday.

—All is said to be quiet at Nogales, Arizona, the offending Mexicans having been turned over to the U. S. authorities.

—Acting Secretary Fairchild to-day issued a circular saying that trade dollars will be redeemed at all the U. S. sub-treasuries.

—Owing to a panic produced by the recent earthquake, the hotel-keepers of Nice, France, are selling out and moving away.

Mrs. Ruth H. Harmon, grandmother of Mrs. Grover Cleveland, died at Jackson, Mich., yesterday, where she was living with a son. The funeral, which is to take place at Batavia, New York, will be attended by the President and Mrs. Cleveland.

A Mock Congress.

Two years ago some of the students of Cornell University, thinking that much good might be derived from a literary organization modeled after our National Congress, set about it, and formed such a society and named it the Cornell Mock Congress. At present the membership is about 60. They meet once a week, conduct business as nearly as possible like the National Congress, and as its name implies, discuss such questions as do their elder brother at Washington.

An Irrigating Scheme.

A number of citizens of Genoa, Douglas county, held a meeting the other day to discuss the feasibility of irrigating a large tract of white sage land in the valley close to that town. A committee of three was appointed to estimate the cost of the storage of water or sinking of artesian wells, and other matters relative to the improvement of the land. The next meeting will be held on Friday evening, March 18th, at which time the committee will report.

Mormon Missionaries Not Recognized.

The Inter-State Commerce bill prohibits the granting of special rates to any one except ministers of the Gospel. A telegram was recently sent to the central office of a certain rail-road company from Salt Lake City, inquiring whether the Mormon missionaries should be recognized as ministers, and the answer which was returned was brief but pointed; it read, "No." The missionaries will either have to go on foot or pay full fare.

A Child Drowned.

At Merced Falls, on the Merced river, Cal., last Wednesday afternoon, the little child, about three years old, of Edward McIntyre, while playing on a bluff above the river, fell or rolled down the embankment and was drowned.

Joining the Dust.

The roof of the old mission in Mission Valley, says the San Diego Union, fell in during the late rains. The venerable and interesting building seems to be gradually disappearing and joining the dust, as its illustrious founders have done.

A Better Showing.

The average assay value of the ore shipped last week from the Con. California and Virginia mine to the Morgan and Eureka mills was $34.12 per ton. The company shipped to San Francisco on last evening's express bullion valued at about $7,500.

Effects of the Big Storm in Modoc County, Cal.

EAGLE VILLE, Cal., March 1.

Editor Gazette:—The long-looked-for Winter came upon us with the 1st of February and continued during the whole of the month quite severe up to yesterday, the last day of the month. The snowfall during the month amounted to 33 inches, the greatest in this valley since 1868. The lowest point the thermometer attained during the Winter was 4° above zero. The temperature to-day is 50° with south wind at the rate of two miles per hour; this is cutting the snow very fast, which our people are pleased to see. Our stock men are losing cattle and sheep at a rapid rate. The Ward Brothers, Hudspeth, Clark & Patterson, Tom Cummings, Murdock & Son, our cattle kings, are losing a great many cattle, and Chase and Ross are both losing sheep by the wholesale.

The Freeman Brothers just came into the valley from Madeline Plains, and report the snow there from two and a half to three feet deep, and stock in a starving condition.

J. E. Jones, of Reno, left here a day or two ago for Susanville via RENO, on account of the heavy snow between this point and Susanville.

Our farmers are jubilant over the heavy snows from two standpoints: First, that we are assured of fine crops the coming season, and, second, that they will be rid of their surplus hay that has been accumulating on their hands for the last three or four years.

We must say it is anything but gratifying to us to be without mail, sometimes for two or three days, and then get an arm-load of it. However, we find no fault with the proprietors of the mail line or their employees, but rather commend them in their efforts, for we believe they have done the best they could to get the mail through on time.

JOTTINGS.

W. H. Heeson, Baltimore, Md., was cured of rheumatism by using St. Jacobs Oil.

Wonderful conjunction—Red Star Cough Cure for colds; St. Jacobs Oil for pains.

S. T. Butch, opposite GAZETTE office, is selling Fairbanks 10lb cans of standard lard for $1 per can.

By buying your fire-wood of J. F. Aitken you can always be sure of a good quality and full measure.

During the recent storm, qual are said to have died by the thousand in Indian Valley, California.

Read the ad. of the Sacramento nursery in another column. Their trees are all raised without irrigation.

Before paying out money for split leather and paper soles, examine H. A. Winton's stock of ladies' children, mens and boy's shoes.

Coffin & Larcom handle no second-class goods, their groceries being as pure as can be found anywhere. Try a can of their prime tea.

C. J. Brookins carries a full assortment of all text books used in either the University or the public schools. Sample his home-made candles.

Besides all kinds of the best fresh meats, J. Frazer is supplying his customers with boneless hams, bacon and his unequalled cooked corned beef.

Thurston & Jamison's stock of stationery, blank and miscellaneous books is entirely new, and their prices as low as the same quality can be had anywhere.

In order to be ready for the reduction to be brought about by the Inter-State Commerce bill, E. C. Leadbetter is already selling groceries at reduced rates. Try a few bottles of his new cider.

Special School Tax.

The School Trustees have called a special election for to-morrow, for the purpose of raising a special tax on the property in Reno School District for school purposes, to the amount of $3,000. It seems that many tax-payers do not understand the object of this special levy. The Trustees say that this special tax will not naturally increase the school tax in this District, but that if the special tax is ordered, the rate will be very little above that of last year. The Board has levied a tax for general school purposes of 15 cents on each $100 valuation. The Trustees ask a special tax of, say, 20 cents, which will make the whole school tax in this District 25 cents, or five cents higher than last year.

The Remains of Mr. Haslund.

The funeral of Nels C. Haslund from the Masonic Hall yesterday afternoon was largely attended, and the services, conducted by W. M. Henry L. Fish, were impressive. The remains were interred in the Masonic cemetery, after which G. M. Henry Rolfe, of Virginia City, eulogized, in eloquent language, the many good acts and meritorious traits of the deceased when an active member of the order.

Bannocks Visiting Pictures.

Six Bannock braves are down from Fort Hall, Idaho, visiting Captain Johnson Sides. They were photographed yesterday at Murray Dunham's. One of them was asked this morning by a GAZETTE reporter how he liked Reno. He gave the reporter a hard stare and a grunt—we suppose of approval—and walked off. They will return home in a few days.

Indian War Dance To-night.

The six Bannock braves in town will give a war dance at Johnson Sides' camp, near the old slaughterhouse, this evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody is invited.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Proceedings of the Regular Monthly Meeting Held To-day.
The County Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting today, the full Board being present, Mr. Hymer in the chair.

The Board of Examiners made their usual monthly report of the county finances, which shows the total amount of coin on hand to be $17,797.45.

Recorder Williams' statement of fees collected during February showed an aggregate amount of $174.80.

The report of Superintendent Madden, of the County Hospital, showed the number of patients on hand March 1st to be 15.

Jailer Bryant's report showed that the number of prisoners in the county jail on February 1st was 6; received during the month, 27; number discharged in that time, 24; in jail March 1st, 6.

R. S. Osborn appeared before the Board and requested that some action be taken prohibiting wood from being piled on vacant lots on the corner of West and Fourth streets. The matter, not being presented in the proper form, the Board declined to take any action on it.

The bills presented against the county were then considered.

A petition signed by 11 citizens was presented to the Board, asking that a new school district be formed and maintained, to be known as Anderson School District No. 19. After hearing the arguments of several interested, the Board adopted the following order, Chairman Hymers voting "no":

Ordered, that so much of Washoe county, State of Nevada, as is included within the following lines and boundaries to wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of section 19 of township 19, north of range 20, east Mt. Diablo base and meridian, according to the United States public land surveys; and running thence south one and a half miles, thence at right angles westerly three miles, thence at right angles northerly one and one-quarter miles, thence at right angles easterly one mile, thence at right angles southerly one-half mile, and thence at right angles easterly to the place of commencement, is hereby established and created a Public School District, to be known and designated as Anderson School District No. 19, and the boundaries of No. 10 of School District No. 10 of said county are hereby changed by excluding from said District No. 10 so much of said established District No. 19 as is now included in said District No. 19.

A petition, numerously signed by prominent business men, was presented, praying that the Board provide means and enter into a contract with the Reno Electric Light Co. for the purpose of lighting the principal streets of Reno with electricity. Mr. Stevenson, manager of the company, appeared before the Board, and offered to put up four arcs at a cost of $10 an arc a month. The Board favored the proposition, but decided to take the matter under consideration for a week or 10 days.

At 3:45 P. M. the Board was still in session.

HONEY LAKE NEWS.

More Storms—A False Confession

Dubois Discharged.

SUSANVILLE, March 3.

Editor Gazette:—The storm which commenced here February 3d bids fair to rival the heavy dew encountered by Noah some time before gold was discovered in California. For a month now, with but a few fair days intervening, this section has been visited with snow and rain, and a number of nights of exceedingly cold weather for this section, the thermometer standing below zero. Since the commencement of the storm nearly seven feet of snow has fallen, and much rain. Yesterday it rained all day, and is continued to-day; consequently, slush prevails and sleighing is becoming far from good.

The report I furnish to the GAZETTE in regard to the confession of one John McNemar to the killing of Stanton in Shasta county, proves to be untrue, and now another confession is said to have been made by another party, which may prove to be like the former.

The examination of Albert Dubois, charged with killing George Blethen at the saloon of Chat Roberts at the Junction on February 19th, was finished here today, J. C. Blake, J. of P., presiding. The result was Dubois was discharged. The examination has occupied the attention of the court since Monday last, and was quite tedious, as quite a number of witnesses were examined and their testimony written down, no shorthand reporter being here.

Much stock is reported to have perished in the hills, and no doubt many more will be added to the number. Some parties are said to have lost many of their sheep. A scarcity of hay is feared here in this valley before cattle can find feed on the hills. The mails continue as uncertain here as the weather.

RIX.

Disappointed Californians.

A special car arrived here from Sacramento last evening, containing Creed Haymond, the chief of the law department of the Southern Pacific system, and William Beckman and wife, Willian Hetzel and wife, A. F. Jones and wife, Miss Edith Crosby, of Sacramento; and Misses Emily and Mollie Hanlon, and Mrs. William Brown, of San Francisco; C. A. Alexander, Charles Putnam and S. N. Rucker, of Sacramento; and J. T. Tucker, of San Jose. The party left California on an invitation from Mr. Haymond to come to Reno for a sleigh ride, but found on their arrival that the ground was nearly as destitute of snow as the streets of Sacramento, so their car was attached to the west-bound express and they returned home somewhat disappointed.

Sarah Winnemucca and her School

Sarah Winnemucca, the Plute Princess, came over from Lovelock Saturday evening, and is visiting members of her tribe in and around Reno. To a GAZETTE representative she said this morning concerning her school: "At the present time I have 20 pupils, 12 of whom are boys. I teach them reading, writing, ciphering and geography. Sixteen have gone through the second reader, and shortly I will have them take up the third. Several of the older ones write nicely, and correspond now and then with ladies in the East, who are friends of the school.

I gave the pupils a vacation until to-morrow, when I shall return to them."

Meadow Lake.

A ten-stamp mill is to be erected at Meadow Lake the current year, and contracts for 300,000 feet of lumber have been made in Sierra Valley. Thomas Lebroke, who has the contract, has just completed a new mill in Webber Canyon, and will construct a road from there to Webber Lake, a distance of six miles.
